

See work card 649.10

Adopted name }

Connoquenessing

Butler co.

Thing named } Boro, Township, P.O., and Creek, Butler, Beaver, and Lawrence cos., Pa.

APPROVED.

APR 3 1907

Names

Connoquenessing (creek)

U.S.G.S. Newcastle sheet - Ed. of 1904
2d Geol Survey of Pa. Report, vol. Q

Post Route Map.

Rand, McNally & Co's. Atlas, 1906

Biers' Atlas of Pa. 1902

12th Census.

Smith's Official Manual of Pa. 1901. p. 653

Conoquenessing (village)

Postal Guide and Post Route Map.

(village + creek)

Rand, McNally and Co's. Atlas, 1906

(village + creek)

Pennsylvania State R.R. Map, 1901 (Creek name also spelled Connoque)

(Boro)

U.S.G.S. Bul. 258 - Origin of Certain Place Names in U.S. - Gannett.

Conoquenessing (creek)

Lippincott's Gazetteer, 1902.

Dorby's Universal Gazetteer, 1927

Lippincott's Gazetteer, 1902

U.S.G.S. Bul. 258 - Gannett.

Conoquenessing (boro)

Conoquenessing (creek)

Testimony of P.M. at Conoquenessing.

Local usage { Conoquenessing

{ Conoquenessing (by P.O. Dept.) Test of Editor, Conoquenessing Valley News, Zelienople.

Conoquenessing (Village also called Petersville) City of Butler co. Test of H. M. Bame, Harmony, Pa.

Recommendation of Executive Committee

Submitted by

Date

JAN 4 1907

This card prepared by

H. L. Lewis

Mc

(Over)

Conoquenessing

do

P.
B.
O.
W.
F.

Beaver co. etc.

Conoquenessing Valley News (published at Zelienople) given in Smull's Manual as among newspapers in Butler co.

Connoquenessing Valley News - heading of paper ~~and not~~ sent by Editor.

Connoquenessing spelling used in charter of boro. - C/H. of Butler co.

Conoquenessing from Delaware Indian word. gunachquene 'sink' "for a long way straight"
U.S.G.S.Bul. 258 - Gannett.

Origin etc - "Not positively known. Of Indian origin. One authority says it means 'Along way straight'"
Ed. Connoquenessing Valley News.

"Indian name meaning 'crooked water'". P.M. at Conoquenessing

"Indian name meaning 'crooked stream'". Clerk of Butler co.

Indian name meaning 'the Winding Serpent'. H.W. Bame (see accompanying letter)

Appears to be derived from the Delaware Indian word, Ganachquene sink which signifies "a long straight course"

The county and creek are spelled Connoquenessing and the town is spelled Conoquenessing in Rand McNally and the Postal Guide of 1955. Incidentally, the postal stamp of 1907, affixed to decision card spells the town with one "n".

[Moffelt
11/55]